NEW FOR 1985

Survival Knife

For those who do hard time in the outdoors, Kershaw has developed an innovative new survival system that combines all the survival features you need with a functional, durable knife that will perform in even the most severe conditions.

There are cheaper knives and far more expensive custom knives, but none with as many features as this one.

The 6 inch survival blade has a sandblasted non-reflective surface and a strong tang that provides a solid lockup between handle and blade. A double set of rugged sawteeth on the back creates a crosscut saw that works on wood, bone or light metal. When not in use, the teeth are covered with a plastic strip, providing protection for the sheath. The solid stainless-steel buttcap tops off a watertight storage compartment and can be used as a hammer for pounding or pulverizing. Inside the buttcap, the reverse surface is highly polished, making an excellent signal mirror.

While most survival knives have round tubular handles, Kershaw's Survival Knife has a cushioned non-slip surface, finger grooved to fit the hand for positive gripping. The unique handle is sturdy and comfortable, and won't freeze to your hand even at 60° below zero.

Within the hollow handle are fishing hooks, monofilament line, needles, thread, safety pin, surgical tubing for use as a tourniquet or slingshot, and waterproof/windproof matches.

The heavy duty Cordura® sheath contains specially designed pockets with a complete set of waterproof survival cards covering everything you need to know in a survival situation, a high-quality, full-sized compass that can be used with a map, bandage strips and patches, and reflective Back-Tracker strips for marking your trail. The sheath can be worn on a belt or converted to a shoulder type rig.

We feel the new Kershaw Survival Knife is something every outdoorsman needs. It provides a real tool that will make you self sufficient under the most adverse conditions or terrain.

SURVIVAL KNIFE/Model 1005.
Blade: 6″ Total Wt.: 1 lb. 8½ oz.

SURVIVAL LINE

CRAFTSMANSHIP IN THE SAMURAI TRADITION.

Incorporating the most advanced metallurgy techniques and meticulous handcraftsmanship, each Kershaw survival knife is not only a collectors'-quality masterpiece, it's a functional, durable survival tool—a tool that performs in even the most severe conditions.

The AUS-8A double-edged blades are taper ground to a shaving sharp edge while the handles are specially balanced to fit the hand comfortably during use. In addition, a custom-formed leather sheath comes with each Kershaw survival knife. Featuring a metal spring clip with a safety bar on the back, this sheath can be worn on a belt or clipped to the top of a boot. The Amphibian is also available with an ABS divers' sheath with velcro straps for underwater use. The straps can be removed and the sheath worn on the belt if desired.

Trooper

The Trooper's blade is virtually inseparable from its fine grain ebony handle because the tang extends throughout the entire length of the handle. (The buttcap is locked into place by a stainless steel pin that actually pierces the threaded tang.) Each Trooper is an individual handcrafted work of art and is marked with its own serial number. It is shipped complete with a superb hard-side presentation case, a registration card, and a metal plate (which can be engraved and mounted on the outer cover of the case.)

Special Agent

The Special Agent is a compact version of the Trooper. An aluminum alloy handle is die cast directly to the notched blade tang. For durability and non-slip practicality in wet or severe survival conditions, a thermo-setting vinyl coating is baked onto the handle. A hole is drilled in the handle for a lanyard and the solid brass bolster/finger guard is a handsome safety feature.

Amphibian

A survival knife or divers' knife that does the job on land or in the sea. One solid piece of specially formulated carbon stainless steel with serrations on one edge provide the strength and durability for those really tough cutting chores.

As a safety factor the Amphibian features a rubberized vinyl grip and a flared guard at the bolster area to give the user complete confidence and complete control of the knife, even in wet conditions.

SPECIAL EDITIONS FROM GERMANY

German Forged Carving and Steak Knives

"In the town of Solingen, a rare art form still exists as it has for centuries. Hand-forged cutlery, made in the old world tradition of quality and craftsmanship taught by the German masters many years ago.

Today, only a few makers still have the facilities and know-how to hand-forge fine cutlery. It has been our good fortune to become good friends with the owner of this unique little company in Solingen that still specializes in forging which they have done so well for 98 years.

To me, the combination of flawlessly forged blades and natural stag horn is unsurpassed in a cutlery set that is both beautiful and functional.

Each piece is made of high carbon stainless steel, with strong full-tang construction and Indian Sambar stag horn handles. These classic knives offer unsurpassed workmanship and style."

The Damascus Steel Knife

"Today in the entire world there are only a handful of makers who can create Damascus steel. This method of forging goes back to the Middle Ages. It is a process of heating and folding the steel into layers —82 layers of iron and steel. The laminated blade is stronger than a single piece of steel just as a laminated wood beam is stronger than a wooden pole.

Because of the immense amount of time it takes to create Damascus steel, no more than 20 pieces can be made in a month. Just like finger prints, no two will have the same grain pattern.

We're proud to offer these fine handcrafted sets honoring the old world designs and traditions."

FISHERMEN'S FRIENDS

SOME NEW ANGLES FOR ANGLERS

For casual Sunday morning anglers, serious sports fishermen—and those who depend on a functional fillet knife every day of their lives—Kershaw has created a full range of top-quality fishing knives. Knives that feature enough blade lengths and handle designs to cut right through the market. Knives that also offer the highest quality materials and craftsmanship in the field.

Each handle on a Kershaw fixed blade fishing knive is permanently injection molded onto the tang. As a result, it won't jiggle loose, chip, crack or split—even when left in a tackle box or boat. The thin, flexible blades allow slicing closely along the backbone for perfect filleting. And each razor sharp blade is made from Kai Stainless Steel®, so it's salt-water safe.

Folding Angler

The Folding Angler, a new concept in fishing knives, combines the cutting action of a fillet knife with the safety of a folding knife. A strong locking mechanism on the back of the knife prevents the blade from closing while in use, but folds up neatly inside the handle when the job is done. By simply removing two screws, the handle can be removed for thorough cleaning.

Floating Fish Knives

Each lightweight handle is hollowed out at the hilt in Kershaw's Floating Fish Knife Series, so the knives float if accidentally dropped overboard. The brightly colored buttcaps make them easy to spot and feature handy stripping spoons for easy removal of waste.

THE CUSTOM CORNER

FOR THAT EXTRA TOUCH OF CLASS

Kershaw knives offer the finest quality, craftsmanship and performance on the market today. These knives not only consistently live up to the demands of their owners, they reflect a special dedication to both style and strength. And these exceptionally fine cutlery products can be further enhanced with optional services that add an extra touch of class.

The extraordinary style of Kershaw knives goes beyond personal use. These knives are always welcome as holiday gifts, and are equally impressive as corporate gifts or for incentive programs, premiums and special presentations.

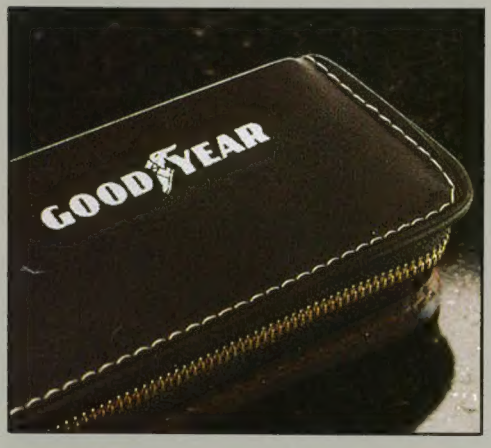
Any name, logo, or design can be permanently etched to a Kershaw knife by any one of many methods available. From the fine detail of a special wildlife scene, to the hard lines of a corporate logo, to the names or initials of special customers, friends, and employees.

And the cost is surprisingly affordable; just ask your Kershaw sales representative or check your price list for details. Or call direct to the Kershaw office. Whether it's for one knife, or for thousands, we'll be glad to assist you in any way possible.

ENGRAVING: Logos, names, or initials can be deeply engraved on either the blade or metal parts of the handle.

LASER ETCHING: A unique process using laser technology can etch a lasting impression—a scene or logo in striking detail—on any knife with a wood inlay.

14K GOLD ETCHING: By applying gold plate to the knife, any logo can be duplicated in 14-karat gold for a very rich look at a surprisingly affordable price.



SILK-SCREENING: Our popular Blade Trader set can be silk-screened with corporate logos for use as dealer incentives and special promotions.

ACID ETCHING: This permanent etching process can recreate any logo, scene or design—down to the smallest detail—on any stainless steel section of a Kershaw knife.

PHOTO ETCHING: By permanently photo etching into a specially treated metal overlay, any logo or design (including a custom scene drawn by our own Gary Harbour) can be added to a Kershaw knife. Guaranteed not to wear or peel off—ever. Inlays also available for the 2000 and 5300ME series in assorted colors.

The Best and Nothing But the Best

From the handcarved Scrimshaw "Flagship" sets of Collectors Knives to our little Chum pocket knife, the entire Kershaw range of knives maintains a level of engineering and design quality that have become industry standards of comparison.

We do this through a solid team effort which originates in our Kai Cutlery factories in Seki, Japan, where knifemakers with centuries of knowledge diligently work at their trade.

Each knife goes through countless inspections inside and out before it is shipped. After this our inspectors ask themselves one final question "Would I buy this knife for myself?" If not, it is rejected and never sold—not even as a second. This is how a reputation for reliability is earned and maintained.

Without such quality control we couldn't afford to cover everything we sell with our famous, no time limit guarantee.

A knife is a lasting personal possession that we want you to be proud to sell, own or give.

Peter G. Kershaw
President
Kai Cutlery USA, Ltd.

Pride Proven in Performance

All Kershaw blades are manufactured of Kai Stainless Steel® from the AUS series (6A for pocketknives, 8A for survival and hunting knives). This steel is an improvement over famous 440-C, and has a hardness range of Rockwell C57-59. These high-carbon stainless steel blades are heat-treated by an advanced sub-zero quench to take an incredibly sharp edge that holds longer than conventional blades, and is also much easier to maintain.

Kershaw knives live up to the demands of their proud owners, whether designed for hard use out in the field or for performing the everyday tasks of a small pocket tool.

In addition, the expert Kai craftsmen take another step most other knife companies don't: Each part of a Kershaw knife—including the internal parts of all folding knives—is mirror polished to prevent rust or corrosion. And Kershaw folding knives feature that extra touch of quality, with perfect alignment between blades and handles—plus no-wobble blades that never touch metal during the folding action!

The best way to discover the true value of Kershaw knives is to compare them with other products on the market today. Compare the design. The craftsmanship. And the performance. Only then will you understand why Kershaw knives provide strength and style that go beyond expectation.

Guaranteed Shaving Sharp!

All Kershaw knives are guaranteed to be shaving sharp when received from the factory. If a Kershaw knife ever proves defective under normal use (naturally, this does not cover intentional misuse or neglect), simply return it directly to Kershaw, and we will repair or replace it without charge.
